A Safer Future with Renewable Energy

Renewable energy sources like biomass, wind, solar and hydroelectric energy can meet the world's energy demand as they provide energy services based on locally available resources. In other words, renewable energy sources are (21) _____ and all around us. Sunlight and wind, for example, are such sources that are constantly being replenished. According to research by the United Nations, these green energy sources currently supply (22) _____ – 15 to 20% of the world's total energy demand. This supply is dominated by biomass (mostly wood used for cooking and heating - especially in developing countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America) as well as large hydropower stations providing nearly 20% of the global electricity supply (23) _____ by renewable sources.

Renewables are now not only available in most countries but also cheaper than fossil fuels. A transition to (24) _____ energy systems is looking increasingly likely as their costs have dropped while the prices of fossil fuels like oil and gas continue to fluctuate. For example, the cost of electricity from solar power fell (25) _____ 85% between 2010 and 2020 while the costs of onshore and offshore wind energy fell by 56% and 48%, respectively. It is estimated that cheap electricity from renewable sources could provide 65% of the world's total electricity supply by 2030.

Are you bored of your usual European holiday destination? Do you long for a trip in a country in Asia? Join our seven-day tour, we'll take you from dreamy Langkawi to the streets of Singapore.

We'll spend our first two days on the beautiful island of Langkawi, which is a paradise for travel lovers to admire its breathtaking scenery with perfect ocean, palm trees and mountains. You can spend the morning soaking up the sunshine and complete your day with a delicious dinner cruise.

The next stop in our trip is Penang. On day 3 and 4, you'll visit a lively suburb called Georgetown, where you'll be taken to a world of temples and street art. You can also wander along the streets of Penang for some spicy street foods. Make sure you know which place to go to and how to get there and definitely remember to bring lots of money with you. In the afternoon of the fourth day, we'll head to Cameron Highlands, which are densely covered in green grass and plants with a pleasant smell. In the evening, we'll get together for a typical Steamboat dinner. A steaming pot of broth and any ingredients you like are on offer to create your own taste bud adventure.

On day 5, we'll go on a tea plantation tour before we arrive in Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian capital city, where you can decide to check out the Batu Caves, a series of colorful gilded cave temples just out from the city on the sixth day. On the last day of the trip, we'll come to Singapore by coach. We'll spend a day exploring the "Lion City", and we'll return home the next day.
