Part 7:

Suggested answer:

Lunar New Year or Tet is the biggest traditional festival in Viet Nam. It is held in late January and early February. It's the time when family members reunite and celebrate the occasion together. Some days before Tet, people make Bánh Chung and some other traditional dishes. Their house is often decorated with plants and flowers, such as peach blossom or apricot blossom. On the first day of the year, people visit relatives, friends and neighbors. Children receive their lucky money inside red envelopes. Some people go to pagodas to pray for a happy new year. Tet is really a time of fun and festival throughout the country.
