It's a fact that higher education provides students with academic knowledge. However, before starting at a university or college, it's essential that students must be well-prepared with some basic skills to look after themselves. Hence, it's necessary for students to learn many different skills for their new life.

The top of the skill list is to learn how to take care of themselves by doing basic chores like cooking, washing clothes or repairing some furniture. Unlike the time they still live with their parents that they can rely on for the chores, they must handle everything by themselves. Once students can handle their chores, they can focus on their study.

Plus, living in a society requires students to be good at building relationships. They can make friends with people who share the same hobbies or emotions to entertain themselves and learn a lot from others. As a result, having a good mood and building effective teamwork skills can help improve students' learning.

Moreover, budgeting skills are rather stressful to master. Most high school students spend the money given by their parents on leisure activities, such as joining a party, junk food or games instead of necessary things because the parents already pay for all the living costs like food, electricity, water or clothes. However, college or university students must know how to manage the yearly or monthly financial support and spend it effectively so that they don't feel stressed when paying for all bills.

Lastly, time management is also a vital skill that enables students to cope with essays and assignments. Therefore, students need to have the right schedule for their studies and personal life.

Overall, the college or university environment plays a vital role in giving students a chance to live independently.

21. It's important for college or university students to learn some basic skills.

22. College or university students don't have to do the chores by themselves.

23. When college or university students feel good and work well with each other, their study could be better.

24. Most high school students are required to pay for food, electricity or water bills.

25. Good budgeting skills help students deal with their studies.
