Hi Susan,

What are you doing these days? Last Saturday our school (21) _____ a clean-up project. We collected rubbish that people threw in the river. It was a fantastic day. Many people such as teachers, students and their parents, (22) _____ and worked hard. We picked up lots of plastic bottles, food packets and drink cans. We put the rubbish into the bags and boxes, (23) _____ the teachers carried them to a truck, which then took the rubbish to the recycling centre. In the afternoon, we listened to Professor Leslie Cook giving a talk about some easy ways to be green. For example, you shouldn't leave your electronic devices on standby when you go to sleep. All those little red or green lights consume more energy than you think. You can also (24) _____ the heating and put on a jumper or have shorter showers to save water. And guess what, I'm going to Costa Rica in July. It's all arranged. I (25) _____ on a turtle conservation project on the west coast. It will definitely be hard work – but so interesting. I can't wait for it. How about you? Does your school have any projects for the environment?

Write back soon.

VI. Read the following passage. For each question, match the information with the suitable means of transport. Write C for Coco taxis, G for Gondola, or B for both means of transport.

People are used to travelling by bus, car, plane or boat, etc. However, there are lots of other unique and unusual means of transportation around the world. These types of transport are sure to be a memorable experience.

Coco taxi – Havana, Cuba

Coco taxis have got three wheels and a back seat for two people behind the driver. These yellow taxis look like coconuts and are most common in Havana. They are slower but cheaper than regular black taxis. They have a speed of 30km/h. They are also really noisy. The famous yellow coco taxis are mainly for tourists, so people can find them easily in places of tourist destinations or in front of famous hotels.

Gondola – Venice, Italy

Venice is famous for its large network of canals, and the best way to get around them is by using a traditional narrow long wooden gondola boat. Gondolas were the main means of transport in Venice centuries ago, but today they carry only tourists. A gondola ride in Venice ranks among one of the most romantic experiences for travellers. However, it is quite expensive. A 40-minute trip costs about €80 during the day and €120 after 7 p.m. A gondola can hold up to six people.
