Read the following passage and choose the correct answer to each question.

Until recently, most American entrepreneurs were men. Discrimination against women in business, the demands of caring for families, and lack of business training had kept the number of women entrepreneurs small. Now, however, businesses owned by women account for more than 40 billion USD in annual revenues, and this figure is likely to continue rising throughout the 1990s. As Carolyn Doppelt Gray, an official of the Small Business Administration, has noted, "The 1970s was the decade of women entering management, and the 1980s turned out to be the decade of the woman entrepreneur."

What are some of the factors behind this trend? For one thing, as more women earn advanced degrees in business and enter the corporate world, they are finding obstacles. Women are still excluded from most executive suites. Charlotte Taylor, a management consultant, had noted, "In the 1970s women believed if they got an MBA and worked hard they could become chairman of the board. Now they have found out that isn't going to happen, so they go out on their own."

In the past, most women entrepreneurs worked in "women's" fields - cosmetics and clothing, for example. But this is changing. Consider ASK Computer Systems, a 22-million-dollar-a-year computer software business. It was founded in 1973 by Sandra Kurtzig, who was then a housewife with degrees in math and engineering. When Kurtzig founded the business, her first product was software that let weekly newspapers keep tabs on their newspaper carriers, and her office was a bedroom at home, with a shoebox under the bed to hold the company's cash. After she succeeded with the newspaper software system, she hired several bright computer-science graduates to develop additional programs. When these were marketed and sold, ASK began to grow. It now has 200 employees, and Sandra Kurtzig owns 66.9 million USD of stock.

Of course, many women who start their own businesses fail, just as men often do. They still face hurdles in the business world, especially problems in raising money; the banking and finance world is still dominated by men, and old attitudes die hard. Most businesses owned by women are still quite small. But the situation is changing; there are likely to be many more Sandra Kurtzigs in the years ahead.

32. What is the main idea of the text?

A. Women today are opening more businesses of their own.

B. Women are better at small businesses than men are.

C. The computer is especially lucrative for women today.

D. Women today are better educated than in the past, making them more attractive to the business world.

33. The author mentions the "shoebox under the bed" in order to_____.

A. suggest that the company needed to expand

B. show the frugality of women in business

C. show the resourcefulness of Sandra Kurtzig

D. point out that initially the financial resources of Sandra Kurtzig's business were limited

34. The word "hurdles" can be best replaced by_____

A. small groups

B. fences

C. obstacles

D. questions

35. The word "excluded" is opposite in meaning to_____

A. often invited to

B. included

C. decorators of

D. charged admissions to

36. All of the following were mentioned in the passage as detriments to women in the business world EXCEPT_____.

A. women weren't trained in business

B. women faced discrimination in business

C. women lacked ability to work in business

D. women were required to stay at home with their families

37. The word "that" in the passage refers to_____

A. women working hard

B. women achieving advanced degrees

C. a woman becomes chairman of the board

D. women believing that business is a place for them

38. It can be inferred from the passage that the author believes that businesses operated by women are small because_____.

A. women can't deal with money

B. many women fail at large businesses

C. women prefer a small intimate setting

D. women are not able to borrow money easily
